Footnotes:

- <sup>1/</sup> The period covered by any statement begins on the day after the closing date of the last statement filed, or January 1, if no previous statement has been filed.
- <sup>2/</sup> Elected officers whose salaries are less than $200 per month and judges are not required to file semi-annual statements if no contributions were received or expenditures made during the period.
- <sup>3/</sup> A controlled committee of a candidate may not make an independent expenditure to support or oppose another candidate.
- <sup>4/</sup> Because July 31 falls on Sunday and October 10 falls on a state holiday, these filing deadlines are extended to August 1 and October 11, respectively.
- <sup>5/</sup> Candidates who file a Form 501 (Candidate Intention) by September 30, 2005, for a March 7, 2006, election must file this report.
- <sup>6/</sup> Candidates being voted on March 7, 2006, must file by January 10, 2006. Otherwise, file by January 31, 2006.

Additional Notes:

- Except for deadlines that fall on a Saturday, Sunday, or an official state holiday, there is no provision in the law for extending a filing deadline. Late statements are subject to a $10 per day late fine.

- All statements are public documents.
- A candidate not being voted on during 2005 may be required to file additional statements if the candidate makes contributions totaling $10,000 or more to state officeholders or candidates during 2005, or makes contributions totaling $10,000 or more in connection with an election held in 2005. Contact the FPPC for specific requirements.
- Contributions to state candidates and to committees that make contributions to state candidates are subject to contribution limits. Ballot measure committees controlled by state candidates, and some committees that feature state candidates in advertisements, are also subject to contribution limits. Contact the FPPC for specific information.
